Jarnagin Named Buff Head Coach

In a move to strengthen the athletic program at West Texas State College and to gain major status, head football coach Frank Kimbrough will become full-time athletic director and line coach Clark Jarnagin will become head coach.

The changes will take place Jan. 1, and were announced last Saturday by Dr. James P. Cornette at a meeting of the Board of Regents of Texas State Teachers Colleges in Dallas.

Kimbrough has been both coach and athletic director since earlier this year when Gus Miller became head of the men's physical education department of the college and relinquished his duties as athletic director. In addition to coordinating the athletic program of the college, Kimbrough will devote much of his time to promoting season ticket sales, arranging a major college schedule, working with the West Texas Activities Association and helping plan the new stadium.

Jarnagin has been an assistant coach for nearly all of the 21 years since his graduation from Hardin-Simmons University in 1936. This will be his first assignment as head coach.

New assistant coaches will be selected by Jarnagin, and announcements of those chosen are expected in the next few weeks. Hatcher Brown, an assistant since 1948, will remain on the staff as coach and trainer. Borden Price, in his first season as head basketball coach, will continue to help the football program by scouting during the fall.

Kimbrough has been head football coach at West Texas since 1947, coming here from Baylor. In his 11 WT seasons, Kimbrough has a 52-win, 49-loss, two-tie record, and has had 15 wins and five losses during the past two years.

Kimbrough began coaching 30 years ago after graduating from old Simmons University, now Hardin-Simmons, with 11 letters in football, basketball and baseball. He became coach at Wayland College in 1927, staying five seasons.

In 1932, Kimbrough moved across town to become coach at Plainview High School. Later he went to Amarillo College for two years, winning the state junior college championship both years.

In 1935 Kimbrough returned to Abilene to be the Hardin-Simmons coach. In six seasons he won 48, lost eight and tied four, many with Southwest Conference teams. The stay at Hardin-Simmons won national fame for Kimbrough, and in 1941 it gained him the coaches slot at Baylor University.

Jarnagin was a center for Kimbrough at Hardin-Simmons, graduating in 1936.

Kimbrough's teams at Baylor were best known for their ability to upset the top dogs of the conference. He gained the undying enmity of sportswriters in Austin in 1941 when his Baylor squad derailed the Texas University train that was headed for the Rose Bowl. The week prior to the Texas-Baylor game in '41, the Texas team had been featured in Life Magazine with individual pictures of the entire squad on the front cover.

The enmity is still alive. During the last season, Kimbrough received a clipping from an Austin newspaper in which a sportswriter was crowing because WT had lost to Texas Western. The clipping intimated that Texas fans would rather see a Kimbrough team beaten than to win over A&M.

After the 1942 season at Baylor, Kimbrough entered the Navy and remained three years. He coached a Navy team at North Carolina Pre-Flight at Chapel Hill. He was discharged in 1945 as a lieutenant commander and returned to Baylor for a part of the '45 season.

He remained at Baylor in 1946 and came to West Texas in 1947. At West Texas, Kimbrough's teams have played in two bowl games, winning both—a victory over Cincinnati in the Sun Bowl on Jan.

1, 1951, and the second over Mississippi Southern in the Tangerine Bowl last January.

Jarnagin began his coaching career in 1937 as freshman coach at Hardin-Simmons, and moved up to work with Kimbrough in 1938. He moved to Denison High School as line coach for Pat Pattison in 1940, but moved back to Hardin-Simmons for one season as an assistant for Warren Woodson in 1942.

In 1943, Jarnagin also joined the Navy, then was back working for Kimbrough at Chapel Hill. He stayed there through the 1944 and 1945 seasons, the last season as line coach for Bear Bryant, late of Texas A&M and new head coach for Alabama.

In 1946 Jarnagin got out of the Navy and went to Baylor to be line coach for Kimbrough again. He moved to West Texas in 1947, but left coaching in 1948 to be the manager of the college bookstore, and later left the college to enter private business.

Jarnagin returned to coaching in 1953, becoming line coach for Kimbrough again. He has been line coach since that time.

Since his appointment was announced, Jarnagin has been eager for a new football season. "I don't know if I can wait for spring. We may have to have some spring training between now and Christmas," he laughed.

"I've got the best coaching job in the world," he said this week.

Decoration Entry Deadline Is Dec. 19

Entries in the home decoration contest this Christmas must be received by Dec. 19 in order to be judged. Chamber of Commerce manager Roland Black said this week.

The homes entered in the contest will be judged Dec. 20. The dates were moved forward so that those who do not plan to be in town Christmas could still be in the contest.

Cash prizes of $30 for first place, $15 for second and $5 for third will be awarded winners. Entries may be made to Black by postal card, telephoning the chamber office or going by the chamber office.

Entrants must give their names, mailing addresses and addresses of the homes to be decorated.

Canyon School Study Committees To Have Organization Tuesday

Organization of the five committees selected to study the Canyon public school system will be the order of business at the first meeting of the committees Tuesday night in the high school cafeteria.

report for the future and in connection with a statewide study of schools in connection with the Hale-Aikin committee established by the last regular session of the legislature.

The board invited a number of citizens to become members of the committees in order to insure that each committee would be staffed. The board also issued an invitation to any citizen who wishes to participate in the study.

Pray Resigns As Police Chief To Become Probation Officer

Ralph Pray has announced his resignation as Canyon Chief of Police in order to become assistant adult probation officer for the 47th Judicial District.

Pray has been chief of police here since July 1, 1956. The resignation will become effective on Jan. 1.

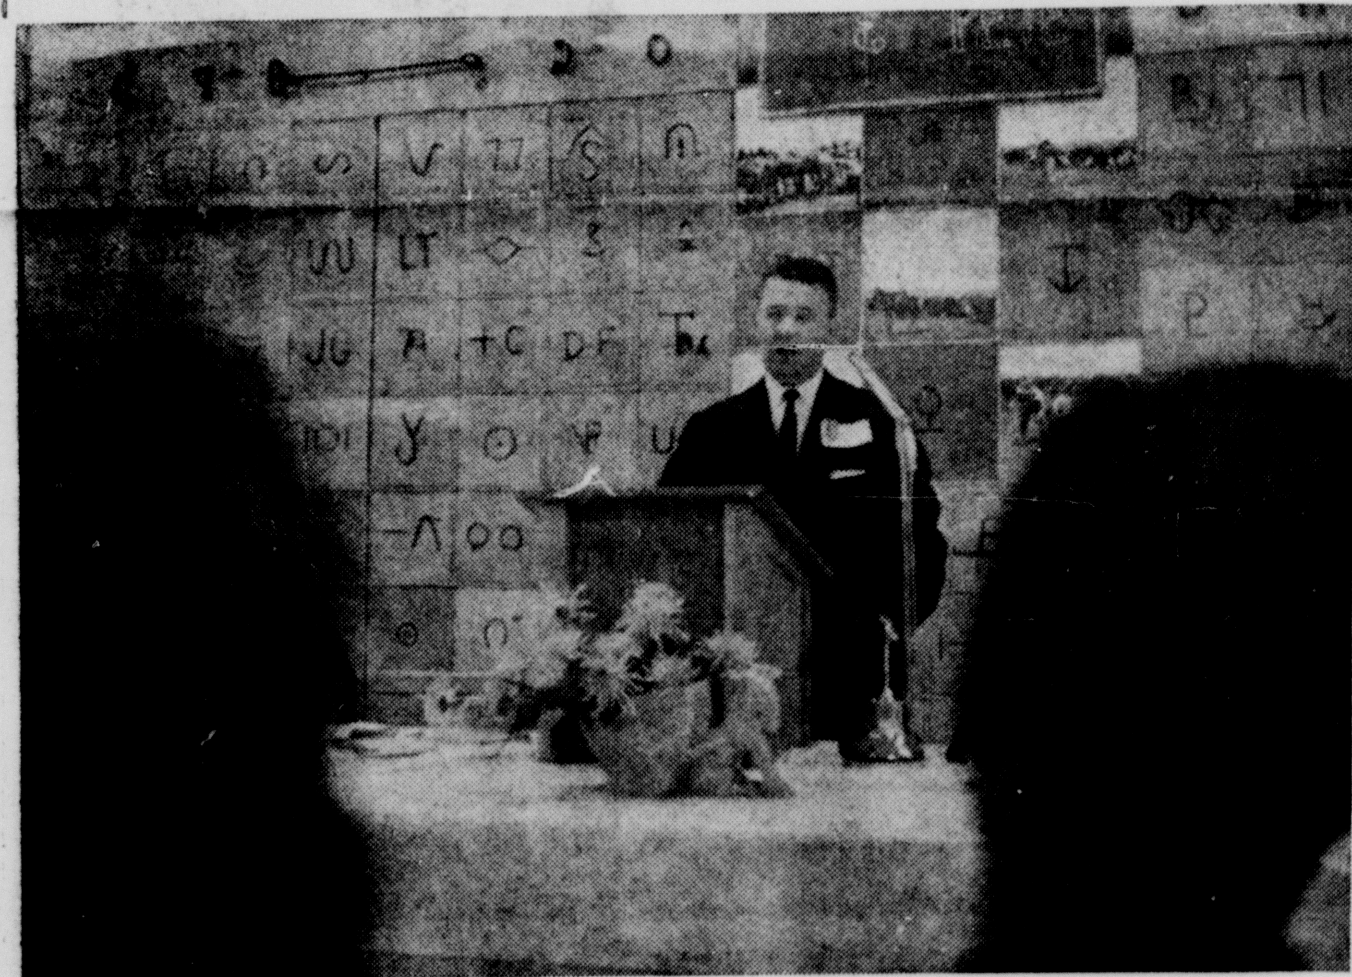

The district probation office is in Amarillo, however Pray said he plans to continue living in Canyon. In his new job, Pray will have supervision of adults placed on probation by the district court.

His duties will include counseling with the probationers and checking to see that they live up to the rules prescribed by the district judge.

District Judge E. E. Jordan said there are more than 200 persons on adult probation in the district at present. Pray will be an assistant to Gib Landis, chief adult probation officer for the district.

The 47th Judicial District includes Randall, Potter and Armstrong Counties. The probation office is financed jointly by the three counties on a pro-rata basis.

Breakfast Speaker

Charles E. Shearer Jr., national president of the Jaycees, speaks to an audience of Jaycees and guests at a breakfast honoring him in the West Texas State College cafeteria Monday.

Jaycee President Scores Lack of Participation in Community Affairs

The lack of participation in community affairs by individuals was scored by Charles E. Shearer Jr., national president of the Jaycees, in a speech here Monday morning in the college cafeteria.

Shearer is on a nine-stop visit to Texas, and was met here by W. E. Snelson of Midland, Texas, Jaycee president, Don C. Baker of Arlington, executive vice president, and Gerald Hale of Hereford, state vice president, and Panhandle Jaycees.

The national president arrived Sunday night, his plane being too late for him to participate in a steak dinner scheduled for the visitors in the Wayne Wirt home. He left Canyon following the breakfast meeting.

Shearer said that communism is gaining ground around the world because the ideology has been embraced by young men who work for its success. He said that people in other nations don't know what the United States stands for. "I think it's because young men in our communities don't stand up and tell," Shearer said.

The Jaycee leader said that the United States cannot expect to change the world "unless our own backyard is in order."

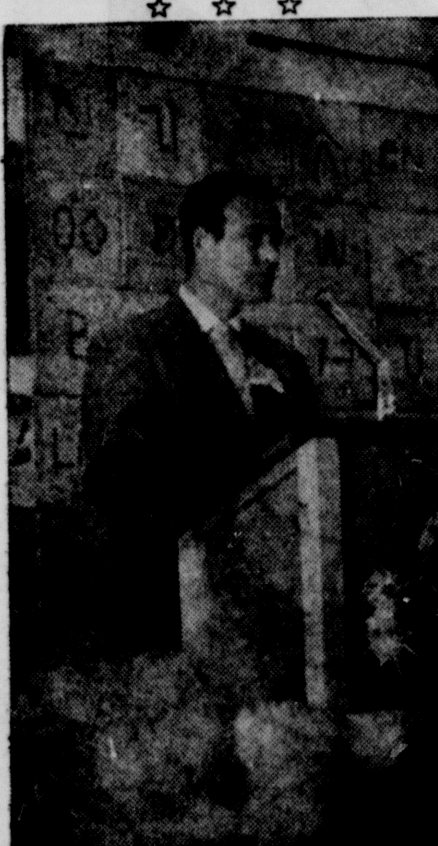

"There are bad conditions in our communities because we want them that way," Shearer said. "That is true because if we wanted them to be different, we would change them."

He called on the young men to take a more active interest in community affairs. "We don't have money invested, being young men, but we have our future invested in our communities. Let's protect that investment," Shearer said.

WT Clubs Okayed for Nationals

The "go ahead" was given here Tuesday for West Texas State College's seven social clubs to seek affiliation with national fraternities and sororities.

The move was okayed by WT's Board of Regents in a resolution granting permission "to seek national affiliation, under the guidance and counsel of the administration."

Contained in the resolution is "the understanding that at least not within the foreseeable future will there be separate housing arrangements, either private or college-owned, for the groups, even though national affiliation might have been effected."

WT President James P. Cornette, who proposed the resolution to the board, explained its implications to about 40 students Tuesday in a joint meeting of the Inter-Club Council, the Student Senate and the Advisory Council.

The Inter-Club group is composed of representatives of the seven clubs, and had enlisted Dr. Cornette's aid in securing the board's approval.

Before seeking the board's permission, Dr. Cornette had conducted a poll among WT students on opinion concerning the tie-up with national groups. The poll found 62 per cent of the student body favoring the move, 10 per cent opposed, and 28 per cent expressing "no opinion."

Club members will immediately set about their plans to establish ties with national fraternities and sororities through the Intra-Fraternity and Panhellenic councils.

Process of obtaining charters in national organizations is expected to take several years.

A representative of one men's fraternity was slated to confer with Alpha Sigma Xi, one of WT's three men's clubs, here Tuesday. A mass meeting of all clubs will be held Thursday at 7 p. m. in Cousins Hall ballroom, to pool information on steps necessary to achieve national affiliation.

Dr. Cornette cautioned the clubs to make their organizations worthwhile and of positive help to "a college long known for its unified relationship and democratic and friendly spirit among its students.

"Wouldn't it be possible for us to receive the advantages of national affiliation without sacrificing the good relations we have enjoyed at West Texas State?" he asked.

Most of the seven clubs were organized in the 1930's, with the first of them, Pi Omega, a women's group, being formed as early as 1925. Other sororities, and their founding dates, are Delta Zeta Chi, 1936, Gamma Phi, 1936, and Kappa Tau Phi, 1939.

The men's clubs are Alpha Sigma Xi, 1934, Tau Tau Tau, 1936, and Epsilon Beta, 1935.

Study Committees Open to All

In practically every newspaper and magazine you read nowadays, and through television and radio, one of the major topics of discussion is the educational system of the United States. You hear of criticisms of the system, and you see the present-day system defended.

Certain facts are pretty well acknowledged, chief among them being that not enough students are being prepared to work in the sciences—the reasons being given are innumerable: low pay, lack of interest, lack of emphasis, lack of preparation by teachers, etc.

We can be sure that our educational system is not all wrong, just as it is not all right.

In addition to criticisms of the American system, you can hear of praise of the Russian system with its strict regimentation and its emphasis on the sciences.

We can also be sure that the Russian system is not all right, just as it is neither all wrong.

Possibly you read a letter in the Monday Amarillo Daily News written by Rex Tynes of Groom, in which the Socratic system of teaching was lauded and pointed to as a solution to our problems. Below in "Scissor Snippings" is an editorial

Inefficiency Condoned

Recently in Washington, D. C., the NAACP brought a series of charges against the chief of police there and asked for his removal. The charges, seven in all, amounted to statements that he permitted segregation in the department, had a philosophy of segregation, and permitted police brutality.

Considering such charges serious, the district board of commissioners asked the Department of Justice to investigate, and the FBI reported that there were no violations of civil rights in the NAACP allegations. The FBI investigated only those charges which imputed violations of federal criminal law.

The board of commissioners then set up a hearing for the chief of police and the NAACP to study the remainder of the charges, those which would not violate any criminal laws.

After a seven-day hearing, the board upheld the chief of police and stated that the NAACP failed to give any evidence to uphold any of their charges and even failed to give any evidence at all to attempt to uphold part of the charges. The board issued a statement backing the chief and renewing their confidence in him.

In a counter statement, the NAACP said they knew all along that the board of commissioners would not hold an impartial hearing and that the chief of police would not be fired. The NAACP came back with more charges—that the chief has failed to implement the orders of the commission for integration of the force, that the chief planned to keep the police force segregated and "that he abided by a philosophy of segregation if needed for efficiency."

In other words, the NAACP in Washington holds that the police force should be integrated regardless of the consequences, even though it might mean that the police department would become ineffectual and unable to keep peace and order. That's one of the kinds of things the NAACP is fighting for nowadays. We can look for the NAACP to bring charges against the district police and commissioners in the next session of Congress.

What Our Neighbors Say . . .

Scissor Snippings

From the Dallas Morning News: East Texas State College students are complaining about the "general education" course they're getting. They want a "sound liberal education."

Specifically, they object to the general course introduced two years ago for freshmen and sophomores stressing such subjects as "Personality Foundation" and "Nature of the Universe," at the expense of Freshman English, biology and American history.

Education is being examined everywhere these days in the light of developments that have discarded traditions and presented new difficulties.

You hear questions like these: What's an education for, anyway? Who should get it at taxpayers' expense? How much and what kind? If he learns to make a living, is he educated?

There has been so much tinkering, so much experimenting and theorizing, that the real essentials have taken a back seat; hence, the demand at East Texas State for a return to fundamentals. After all, an A-plus in "Personality Foundation" is worthless if the student can't write down what he's learned. It's significant that students themselves finally are objecting. It is they who lose when the experiments discard what they ought to gain.

Jimmie Gillelentine in the Hereford Brand: I notice where the Canyon News is plugging for a state highway east through Palo Duro Canyon. Such an arterial connection with the Ft. Worth-Dallas area would do much toward changing the marketing habits in this whole country. Many of our division outlets operate out of Oklahoma City now, and might well be shifted further south. The idea sounds practical and solid.

Our area should join Canyon and Randall County in the movement.

Harold Hudson in the Ochiltree County Herald (Perryton): A small boy called the Sanford Hospital last week from Booker asking if the doctor was in. He was told that the doctors were in conference, but that there were doctors present in the hospital. "Have them stand by," the boy said. "I'm coming over—this is an emergency." The nurse got his name, inquired as to his ailment. "I've got lung cancer," he gasped. A telephone call to his mother in Booker led to an investigation which revealed that the 8-year-old had tried smoking one of his father's cigars. He became so deathly sick on this first smoking experience that he knew, from reading the ads, that he surely had lung cancer.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By BOYCE HOUSE

The first time I ever saw Dan Moody, he came to Eastland to assist in the prosecution of a man accused of murder. At that time he was the prosecuting attorney of Williamson County and soon afterward he was elected Attorney General.

The trial resulted in a hung jury. The case was transferred to another county and the defendant was freed. (I don't know whether Moody took part in the later trial or not.)

Years later, I sat down beside him at the counter in the Stephen F. Austin Hotel coffee shop in Austin and he related an incident of his first campaign for governor:

He said, in substance:

"I made about the same speech everywhere, after making the local references, and I had given it so many times that it was almost automatic. As I was speaking in one town my eyes were roving over the audience when I saw a face that I had seen before. I began to wonder who he was and then it came to me; he was the man I had prosecuted in Eastland. It further occurred to me that he might try to make some trouble. You will recall he was a husky man with cold eyes and he was looking at me intently.

"All this time, I was going on with my speech.

"When it was over, a good many in the audience lined up to shake hands and I suddenly found myself face to face with him.

"As he shook my hand, he said in a tone that everyone around could hear, 'You tried to send me to the electric chair but you're a good man and I'm for you.' "I shook his hand extra heartily."

Warn Area Citizens of Danger From Later Surges of Influenza

By ROBERT F. YOUNG
Director
Randall-Potter Health Department

Although the recent epidemic of influenza seems to be subsiding, there is always the danger of a subsequent wave of this disease sweeping in again later in the winter. Usually influenza, during the second or subsequent wave, poses a greater public health problem than the original assault because of the more severe complications that usually accompany the disease.

Citizens of all ages in this area who have not been immunized for influenza, therefore, should immediately report to their family physician for the influenza vaccine in order to be protected during the late winter months.

The rapid and marked upsurge in influenza during recent months indicates that the influenza virus is wide-spread throughout the country, making a subsequent rise in the disease a definite possibility. It would be well for all college students in the area to avail themselves of the influenza vaccine, since their congregated way of living predisposes to explosive outbreaks of this disease.

Serious secondary infections "ride herd" on influenza outbreaks to make sneak attacks on patients after their normal resistance has been lowered. One of these secondary infections—staphylococcal pneumonia—does not respond well to most of the modern miracle drugs, and has been responsible for several deaths throughout the country in recent weeks.

While it is not claimed to afford perfect protection, the influenza vaccine has been demonstrated to be effective enough to warrant widespread use. Family physicians will discuss with their patients the contra indications for the use, such as being sensitive to eggs and poultry products.

Adcock Betrothal Announced at Tea

The engagement and approaching marriage of Nancy Lois Adcock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Adcock, to Comal Charles Dakil, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Farris of Shamrock, was announced Wednesday evening at a tea in the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Howell.

The wedding will be Dec. 29 in the First Methodist Church. Guests were greeted by Mrs. Stacy Howell, Mrs. Adcock, Miss Adcock, and Mrs. Farris. Guests were registered by Winette Sykes, cousin of the bride-elect.

Presiding at the punch service were Mrs. Ruth Hill and Mrs. J. T. Sykes Jr., of Amarillo, aunts of the bride-elect.

The table, laid with an embroidered linen tablecloth, featured a centerpiece of blue and silver net and ribbon shaped like a heart and inscribed with the couple's names and wedding date.

Co-hostesses were Mrs. Alleene Leake, Mrs. Faye Cannedy, Mrs. James Kauffman, Mrs. Ruby Stallings and Mrs. John Poindexter of Amarillo.

Mrs. Larry Griffin and Virginia Leake played piano selections.

225 Visit Museum During Thanksgiving

Two hundred and twenty-five persons from 15 states and Germany visited the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum Thanksgiving. Visitors from New Mexico, California, Oklahoma, Iowa, New York, Washington, New Jersey, Nebraska, Kentucky, Kansas, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Ohio, Georgia and Virginia toured the museum.

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

Legislative machinery is not built for speed. This was demonstrated as Texas lawmakers moved into their third week of work on a bill designed to prevent occupation of schools by federal troops.

A multi-hour filibuster by Sen. Henry B. Gonzales bogged down proceedings in the upper chamber. House members marked time to wait for Senate action. This apparently was to allow the House committee to consider both the Senate and House proposals before reporting.

Earlier, both House and Senate committees heard a number of religious and educational leaders speak against the bill. Protestors said, in effect, that the measure would be detrimental to the school system and would encourage violence.

Legislative proponents retorted the witnesses seemed "more interested in cramming social dogma down our throats than in educating our children."

Still At It

Texans are riled about the tidelands again.

A suit filed by U. S. Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell the day before he left office seeks to establish the tidelands boundaries of Gulf Coastal states (including Texas) at three miles out.

Texas claims tidelands 10 1/2 miles out by virtue of its 110-year-old annexation agreement with the U. S. A law passed by Congress in 1953 requires the federal government to respect the states' "historic boundaries."

Gov. Price Daniel called on the Legislature to protest to President Eisenhower concerning Brownell's action. Daniel, who co-sponsored the 1953 tidelands bill, read a letter from the President which said, in effect, that he would continue to honor Texas' claim.

House immediately passed a resolution in keeping with the governor's request.

Daniel said that Brownell "added insult to injury" by asking in his suit that Texas be required to pay to the federal government money received from leases on tidelands beyond a three mile limit. This would amount to more than $26,000,000 which the state has salted away in the public school fund.

House also passed a resolution asking Congress to call a constitutional convention. Purpose would be to draft amendments limiting the power of the federal government where it infringes on state powers.

Lake Study Promised

Governor Daniel promised advocates of free use of rural lakes that they will have their inning.

A number of legislators from rural areas have tried during the special sessions to change the law which limits water in small (200 acre feet or less) farm ponds to livestock and domestic use. Freedom to use the water for irrigation is sought.

Present law requires a special permit from the State Water Board to gain irrigation privileges. Farmers say getting such permits is complicated and too expensive.

But spokesmen for cities and downstream users vigorously oppose a change. They fear wholesale irrigation would dry up the streams leaving no water for them.

Governor Daniel said he would not submit this issue for the special session which "is dragging enough as it is." But he promised a study of the problem with a view, perhaps, to making permits easier to get.

Insurance Quiz

Senate investigating committee continued to put Insurance Department employees on the carpet to determine how well that agency is carrying out its functions.

Asst. Comm. Paul Conner took full responsibility for a three-months delay in action on a critical report concerning Preferred Life of Dallas. It was handled as quickly as possible "under the circumstances," said Conner. He pointed out the department was in a period of reorganization at the time and that it received hundreds of such reports.

T. W. Goad, for 17 years a department examiner, testified that examiners' morale was at an all-time low. He attributed this to (1) legislative cutting of examiners' per diem pay and (2) hostility from companies which feel state charges for an examination are too high.

Cost of Crime

Board of Corrections adopted a 1958 budget of $4,045,720 to take care of the all-time high state prison population.

However, only $1,025,829 of this comes from tax money. The rest is earned by the various farming and manufacturing enterprises operated by inmates.

Number behind bars has climbed to an average of 9,726 this year compared to 4,987 in 1947.

More Money for Texas

Texans have been getting richer faster than the average U. S. citizens in the past 27 years.

University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports Texas average income increased 447 per cent from 1929-57. U. S. average increased 279 per cent.

But there's a less rosy side. Last year Texas per capita income still hadn't caught up with the national average. It was $1,686 compared to $1,940.

Also, drouth and farm depression have slowed Texas' rate of increase in incomes. However, said the Bureau report, some improvement in the farm incomes is expected this year.

Rural Roads Supported

Governor Daniel had more words of encouragement for farmers at the Texas Farm Bureau convention.

"There'll be no let-up on the building of rural roads during this administration," he told delegates. Bureau delegates were concerned with recent suggestions that the farm-to-market system is getting a disproportionate share of road money and should be curtailed.

Short Snorts

Another Travis County grand jury is underway. State Auditor C. H. Cavness was called in to brief jurors in any possible irregularity that should be investigated.

A new law prohibiting optometrists from quoting prices in ads is invalid, says the attorney general. Opinion said the law was improperly drawn and therefore void.

Funeral services were held in Austin for former State Supreme Court Justice John H. Sharp, 83. Judge Sharp was appointed to the court by Gov. Dan Moody in 1929.

George Parr gained at least a brief respite in his court battles after the Court of Criminal Appeals reversed a conviction for misappropriating school funds. Parr had been sentenced to five years in a New Braunfels district court. He also has been convicted in a federal court of using the mails to defraud a school district.

I shot four deer on opening day this year. All four were legal size bucks. All weighed in excess of 100 pounds before they were dressed.

A game warden stood by and watched me as I leveled down on these four fine bucks. And I have the evidence to prove I got 'em, too.

I shot them with a camera. I can recommend it for the thousands of Texans who like to get out in the open and don't feel they can afford to buy a deer license, or who don't want to kill a deer.

In company with three other outdoors writers we went to the Kerr Wildlife Management Area, some 30 miles southwest of Kerrville.

There were 30 hunters there, with guns. They had been the lucky ones whose names were drawn for a public hunt this year. The Game & Fish Commission authorized the issuance of some 500 of these permits. More than 7,000 persons applied for them. Which means that more than 6,000 were disappointed not to get in on the free hunt.

That is a tremendous difference, tis true, but right now the state simply does not own enough land to provide free hunts for everyone. For that matter it never will. Such procedure would be entirely impractical.

State operated areas were not bought for hunting anyway. They were purchased to study management practices. Well trained and efficient biologists put in long hours studying what deer eat, their breeding practices, the ratio of bucks to doe, and how they get along with livestock.

On this game management area they have small pastures with fences 10 feet high. In these pastures they run a certain number of deer, sheep, goats and cattle. They make a constant check on how much they eat, what they eat, and their other habits.

Thus the biologists are able to determine exactly what the reproduction is and how the young survive.

In Hunting Blinds
Of course those who hunted did not get to shoot behind one of these big enclosures. Instead, they were placed on stands in open pastures. Each hunter had his own stand in known deer runs. Some of the hunters never had shot deer before. Several were old timers. But each was just as happy with the buck he brought in.

We also were impressed with the size and condition of the bucks. They were from two to five years old and every one in perfect condition.

Similar experimental ranges are operated in other parts of the state. For instance there is the Engeling Wildlife Management Area in Anderson County, near Palestine; and the Black Gap Management Area in Brewster County, adjoining Big Bend National Park.

The work being done on these places will be the deciding factor in our game supply for many years. The practices used on these areas also can be used successfully on other ranches, which will have a great deal to do with future deer crops.

Not too many Texans hunt rabbits any more. This is the time of the year, however, when rabbit hunting is at its best. There was a time when the cotton tail was recognized as a very delectable bit of meat. It still is in many states. However, rabbits always have been so plentiful in Texas that we take them as a matter of course.

Rabbit meat, fried like chicken, is a strong rival for taste and food value.

There is a big crop of rabbits this year. In fact the crop is so big that a tremendous rabbit hunt now is being planned for the Panhandle area, for sometime about mid-January. We'll have more about that later.

Most of us remember rabbit killing as boys, when we used 22 caliber rifles. The 22 still is an ideal gun for shooting rabbits, where there is plenty of room to shoot and care is used.

With the present-day automatics and rifles equipped with scopes this type of rabbit shooting is lots of fun.

However, when hunting with such equipment all the rabbits should be shot through the left eye. Any good rabbit hunter would count a body shot the same as a miss.

Of course, back in the early days there wasn't much fear of tularemia, or rabbit fever. By using care in handling a rabbit, however, there is no danger. Also, if a rabbit has the energy to run it isn't a sick rabbit.

Those Little Bass
Have you been out to a lake lately to see how fast the young bass are growing?

For several months we've been watching these little fellows. They come in close to docks and chase the little minnows and forage for other feed.

The little rascals, spawned this spring, already have reached legal size. This applies both to black and white bass. In about two more months most of them will be from 10 to 12 inches long.

All of which means that you'd better have your equipment ready for next spring's fishing. It's

Lindsey Donates Pre-Combustion Engine Army Ambulance to Museum

The agony of riding in an ambulance of the vintage recently acquired by the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum, was probably as hard to bear as the wound or illness which would have put the patient there.

An Army vehicle similar to those used in the winning of the West from 1845 until 1875, and continued in use through World War I, the ambulance was given to the museum by Bob Lindsey Sr. of Borger. Its comfort and construction was not changed a great deal for nearly a hundred years.

The ponderous wagon is on display in the museum's exhibit of communications and transportation, but will later be restored as nearly as possible to its original state, according to C. Boone McClure, museum director.

The ambulance was bought 15 years ago by Lindsey, specifically for the museum here. At that time there was no room for it, so it remained on Lindsey's ranch southwest of Canyon.

Exact age of the vehicle is not known, but it was made before World War I, according to Lindsey, who bought it at an Army Surplus Depot in Kentucky. He said the freight on it to Canyon "cost four times as much as the ambulance."

Lindsey previously has given the museum in 1929 Model A Ford, which is also on display in the first floor hall.

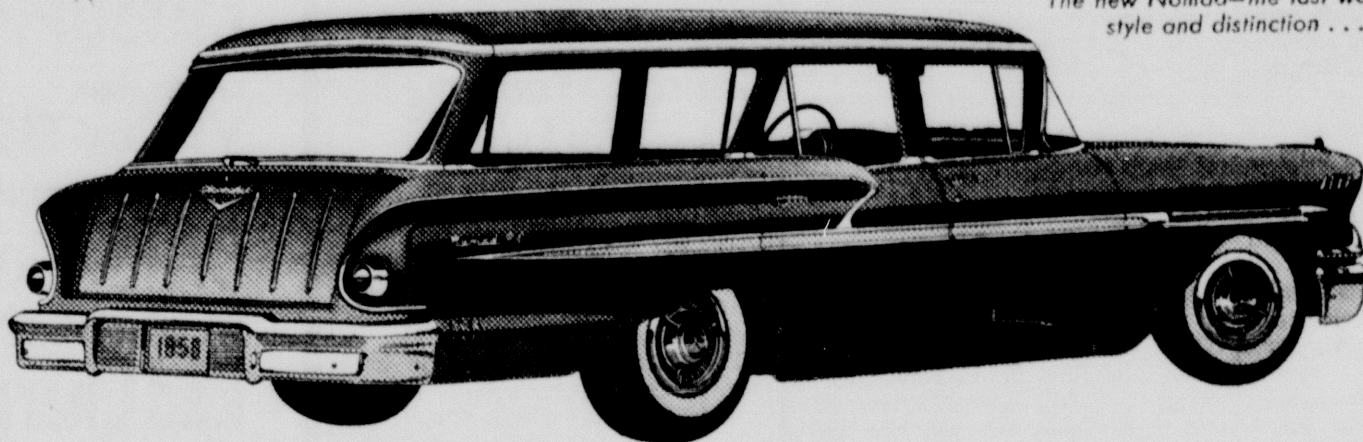

"Those old ambulances were not changed much until the mode of power changed from horse to combustion engine," McClure said. "In our early military history, an ambulance, with a surgeon or doctor, was attached to the cavalry units. The doctor drove it and carried his medical supplies with the ambulance."

No "torsion-air ride" could be had in that wagon of mercy. Its back wheels, about 4½ feet in diameter, were about a foot larger around than the front wheels, and both were rimmed in steel. "Over load" springs gave some relief from rough roads, but any sizeable rock in its path would probably have jolted the patient off the slatted benches on which he was laid.

A high frame held a canvas top, to shield the victims from sun or weather—that was probably a comfort! All in all, the ambulance is about 10 feet long and 10 feet tall with room enough for two patients "comfortably," but with the benches removed, perhaps four could have been squeezed in.

Choir Leaves Monday on Annual Tour Will Sing at Canyon High on Dec. 12

A three-day tour of seven South Plains high schools will be opened Monday by the 65-voice A Cappella Choir of West Texas State College, as the group makes its annual Christmas concert tour.

The group, directed by Dr. Houston Bright, will present programs Monday in Tulia, Plainview, and Muleshoe. It will appear Tuesday in Tahoka and Post, and on Wednesday in Littlefield and Dimmitt. A program is also scheduled at Canyon High School Thursday, Dec. 12.

Among the choir's repertoire are two selections by Dr. Bright which were recently published by the Edward B. Marks, Inc. company. One is an Easter anthem, "Now Sing We All His Praise," and the other is a Christmas carol titled "Joyous Christmas Carol."

A new novelty number by Dr. Bright, not yet published, will also be sung by the group. It is called "What Can an Old Man Do but Die."

Included in the choir's program are a number of Russian chants and carols, traditional hymns and part songs.

Feature Calliham Speech at Course

Dr. M. R. Calliham, head of the West Texas State College agriculture department, will attend a stockman's short course and conference Dec. 8-13 at the State College of Washington, Pullman, Wash.

Dr. Calliham will be one of the course's featured lecturers, talking on beef cattle production for three periods. His talk will be published in a Stockman's Handbook, issued by the college.

The conference draws annually about 600 professional agriculture workers and stockmen from six northwestern states and Canada. Guest lecturers from throughout the United States include many agricultural educators, and their talks deal with problems of livestock management.

Church Women Have Workshop

Santa's workshop has moved from the North Pole to the First Methodist Church of Canyon as members of the Women's Society of Christian Service prepare for their Christmas bazaar.

The bazaar, which will be held Dec. 7 in the showroom of the Truitt-Townsend Ford Motor Co., will feature gift items and Christmas decorations.

The bazaar will have a white elephant sale, a parcel post sale, a food booth and a snack bar besides such gift items as aprons, pillow-cases and rose leaf jars. Table centerpieces and door decorations will also be on sale.

Running all day Saturday, the bazaar is the second one sponsored by the WSCS. Members began planning the event in the spring. Each member made an item per month for the bazaar.

The cumulative effort of the women prepared over 20 different types of articles.

Members of the three circles of the WSCS devoted Nov. 19 to working on the bazaar. Mrs. Charles Wilkinson, chairman of the bazaar, estimated that 30 or 35 women helped during the day.

7 Teachers Attend State TSTA Meet

Seven Canyon educational leaders attended the state meeting of the Texas State Teachers Association in Dallas Nov. 28-29.

Attending the convention were L. H. Brotherton, principal of Canyon Junior High School; Dr. J. B. Roberts, head of the education department at West Texas State College; Dr. Thomas MacOwan, assistant professor of education; Dr. Ruth Lowes, professor of elementary education; Mrs. Ethel Shaw, assistant professor of English; Lucy Mae Yarnell, assistant professor of business; and Tom W. Langston, secretary to the president of WT.

The meeting, which opened on Thursday afternoon, was held in the municipal auditorium in Dallas. Delegates from 12 districts attended the four sessions.

Main speaker at the opening meeting, a vespers service Thursday evening, was Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts. He was introduced by Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson.

Dr. Lawrence Derthick, United States Commissioner of Education, addressed the Friday morning session on the "New Importance of Science." The afternoon session consisted of sectional meetings. Fred Waring and his Pennsylvanians entertained the final session Friday night.

Methodist Group Attends Meeting

Six West Texas State College students attended the Texas Methodist Student Movement Conference at Kerrville Nov. 29-Dec. 1.

The conference, which had the theme, "Whole Men . . . or Hollow Men?," was attended by James Jackson of Tulia, Jean Spurlock of Stratford, Eid Sweis from Jordan, David Miller of Olton, Loreta Fowler of Crosbyton and Jim Flynn of Canyon.

Accompanying the group were Rev. Doyle Ragle, pastor of the First Methodist Church, and the Rev. Allan Brockway, director of the Methodist Student Center at WT, and his wife.

Principal speakers at the conference were Bishop N. S. Booth of the Elizabethan Area of the Methodist Church of the Belgian Congo, and Dr. Julian Hartt, professor of philosophical theology at the Yale University School of Divinity in New Haven, Conn.

Brotherton, a member of the executive committee of TSTA, attended a meeting of that body on Thursday morning.

Wait on Papers For Highway 60

Right of way easements for the widening of Highway 60 west from Canyon to the Deaf Smith County line will be ready in the near future, Highway Engineer W. V. York told the county commissioners court Monday.

York said the survey is about completed and the instruments drawn. He said they would have to be approved in Austin before they could be given to the county. He could not estimate when the papers would be ready, but said it shouldn't be too long. The county will not begin purchasing right of way until the papers have been turned over to the county.

Light Egg School Attendance Seen

Few Randall County producers have indicated that they will attend the egg grading school to be held Dec. 5 in the commercial building at Tri-State Fairgrounds in Amarillo, according to John Brazzil, county agent.

The school, held by field men of the Texas Agriculture Extension Service, is to train egg graders to comply with the recently passed state egg laws.

An effort will be made to hold a similar school in Canyon, perhaps in January, Brazzil said.

A North Carolina public health official has taken over as director of the Randall-Potter Health Department, to set the bi-county unit into operation.

Dr. Robert F. Young met last week with the Randall County commissioners court and attended a luncheon in Neblett Hospital with the doctors of Canyon.

Dr. Young was serving as public health physician for Halifax County, N. C., when he accepted the position here. He had been in public health work in North Carolina since 1940.

He received his A.B. and M.D. degrees in 1933 and 1937 from Emory University, Atlanta, Ga. He completed a masters degree in public health in the School of Public Health, North Carolina University, Chapel Hill, in 1948.

Dr. Young became a diplomate of the National Board of Preventive Medicine and Public Health in 1949. He was given the Reynolds Award in 1952 for outstanding public health work in Halifax County.

Dr. Young, his wife and two sons, Sam, 15, and Robin, 13, live at 1323 Van Buren in Amarillo. They have a daughter, 21, who is a junior in Norman's College, Greensboro, N. C.

Insects — at least the outdoor variety — belong to summer. They are much more at home in the sultry sun than when the air gets frosty.

So the great brown grasshopper who perched himself on the hood of our car the other day came in for quite a lot of discussion as we drove along.

Played all summer, eh? Didn't store up any food? So now you're looking for friends. Even human ones, if you can't do better.

Might as well be a human himself, the spouse opined, for all the sense he shows. Running around having fun in fair weather, then getting scared and looking for help when the going gets rough!

It's a funny thing, but even 'unfriendly' insects seem to take on personality when the chill winds blow and they no longer rule the great outdoors. The sluggish housefly who clings to your forehead, the slender aphid who wouldn't hesitate to eat up your melons, the voracious grasshopper — suddenly become helpless and appealing when the temperature drops to thirty.

We've never been partial to insects in general and some we hate in particular. So far as we can remember, the only ones we ever felt kindly toward before were ladybird beetles, which we called ladybugs and said a little poem to as we cupped them in our hands and sent them on their way. And of course, the bright butterflies that flutter across the lawn on summer days. And maybe a few times, we've stopped to admire a blue dragonfly poised over water — usually such muddy water!

But yesterday, this great awkward insect, balancing dangerously on the smooth metal hood, seemed a lonely fellow. A summer boy in a winter world!

Mr. and Mrs. I. M. Wester of Carlsbad, N. M., spent Tuesday and Wednesday with his mother, Mrs. W. I. Wester. They spent Thanksgiving in the Randall home. The remainder of the week was spent with relatives and friends. Sunday afternoon they drove to Plainview to visit other relatives.

Royce Gum of Texas A&M visited during the Thanksgiving holidays. Royce has been elected a council representative from his dormitory.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Glenn and children of Midland spent the week end in the Bill Patke home. R. E. Boyce and family of Panhandle visited Sunday.

Parents, School Personnel Invited To View Children's Book Exhibit

Parents as well as school personnel are invited to view 600 new children's books that went on display Monday in the library of Canyon Elementary School, according to Mrs. Charles Harter, librarian.

The books fall into 32 categories and cover all grades from kindergarten through high school. Both fiction and non-fiction are represented. The exhibit will be open daily from 8:30 a. m. to 3:30 p. m. and will last through Dec. 13.

The Library Club of the school is sponsoring the exhibit. Sally Nester, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Charles R. Nester, is president of the club.

Books on Exhibit, a cooperative enterprise of the country's leading publishers, has sent the exhibit here. No books will be sold since the purpose of the exhibit is to make available to schools and libraries a representative collection of Junior Library Books.

The 32 subjects the exhibit covers include Adventure, Aeronautics, Animals, the Arts, Biography, Careers, Classics, Conservation, Exploration, Fairy Tales and Folklore, Fiction (with 17 subdivisions), Foreign Lands, Games and Parties, Geography, History, Hobbies and Activities, Indians, Information, Intercultural Relations, Inventions, Language, Nature, Picture Books, Pioneer Life, Religion, Science, Ships, Social Studies, Sports, Story Books, Transportation and Verse.

MOTHER-IN-LAWS TO MEET

The Canyon Mother-in-Law Club will meet with Mrs. H. C. Hudson, 2002 Sixth Avenue on Dec. 12 at 2:30. Members will exchange Christmas presents and everyone is urged to be present.

Mr. and Mrs. Redmond Hand spent Sunday in Plainview with their daughter and her family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ballard and Mike.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill McDonald and son of Ira visited this past weekend with their parents, the Bryan McDonalds and V. B. Hubbards.

Mrs. Camille Wilhelmson of Independence, Mo., is visiting her brother and family, the O. W. Parkers.

UNJUST "TAXIS"

When the teacher inquired of her class the cause of the Revolutionary War, little Jimmie volunteered, "It had something to do with automobiles."

"Oh, no, Jimmie!" protested the astonished instructor. "That was in the days long before the automobiles."

"Well," rejoined Jimmie, "they said it was on account of unjust taxis."

Highway Priority Schedule Given

A priority schedule for highway construction in Randall County was revealed to the commissioners court in a recent meeting with District Highway Engineer Chili Smith.

Commissioner C. Y. Johnson said the first priority is to the strip on the Amarillo to Canyon expressway from the top of Canyon hill to Bell Avenue. He said that project is scheduled "immediately."

Next on the list is the expressway on Highway 60 from Canyon to the Deaf Smith County line. Contracts for state participation in right of way purchases have been signed for both the Canyon hill to Bell Avenue and Highway 60 projects.

Last on the list is the strip on the Amarillo to Canyon expressway from Bell Avenue to the Amarillo city limits. No state participation contract has yet been offered the commissioners court.

Johnson said that the state has already set aside money for the first two projects, but has not done so for the third. He cited that as one of the reasons why the county has not continued right of way purchases near Amarillo.

Livestock Group Slates Meeting

The Randall County Junior Livestock Association will meet Thursday night at 7:30 p. m. in the agricultural building at Canyon High School, according to John Brazzil, county agent.

J. O. Parker, president of the association, called the meeting to elect next year's officers and to make plans for the Randall County Junior Livestock Show in January.

Parker invited as many of the 300 members that can be there to attend.

SLUGGED UP

The dignified dowager watched with growing distaste as the TV comic bounced his way through a slapstick routine of very questionable taste. Finally, with a slight shudder, she snapped the program off.

"I'm afraid," she sighed disapprovingly, "that channel needs dredging."

GOOD OLD GRANDMA

A stenographer turned up for work one morning flashing a huge diamond ring. It was too much for some of her fellow workers who began casting some catty remarks about it. One asked, "Where did you get THAT?" "Oh," replied the steno airily, "when grandma died she left $1,000 for a stone in her memory — and this is it!"
